The European Congress on Obesity (ECO)

The ECO provides an excellent platform for scientific exchange, debate and dissemination between research and health professionals working in obesity. The ECO is the annual congress of EASO, first held in 1986 and now approaching its 22nd edition. It attracts approximately 1500 delegates each year and we encourage all EASO members to participate.

EASO offers significant discounts for members and students – ECO2015 is only €132 per day for EASO members (early rate) and less than €50 per day for students. If you are a member of an EASO affiliated National Obesity Association, you are automatically a member of EASO and entitled to these discounts.

ECO2015 Scientific Programme

ECO2015 will address critical themes covering discovery science, public health and treatment, with a specific track for childhood obesity. The programme will feature plenary lectures, review sessions and abstract submitted oral sessions, and will be augmented by special EASO training courses in childhood and adult obesity management. Be a part of the most important annual European obesity congress and submit an abstract.

EASO Awards and Travel Grants

The EASO Awards recognise outstanding achievement and promote young talent. Travel grants help new and young researchers to attend the ECO, with EASO offering complimentary full registration and €500 towards travel/hotel costs. The following EASO awards will be presented at ECO2015:

- EASO Friedrich Wassermann Award
- EASO Young Investigator
- EASO Young Investigators United Best Thesis Award
- EASO Travel Grants

EASO encourages all National Association members to apply for EASO Awards and Travel Grants, using the links below.
